

MAKE YOUR MARK

Developing a Long Range Transportation Strategy

The River to Sea Transportation Planning Organization (R2CTPO) is required to develop a Long Range Transportation Plan (LRTP) that addresses at least a 20-year planning horizon and is recognized as a guiding document for federal and state transportation funds in our metropolitan planning area.

WE NEED YOU to provide input essential to the decision making process.

WE INVITE YOU to participate in the conversation and learn more about how our transportation system is planned and developed.

February 27, 2015

10:00 a.m.

Daytona State College – Deltona Campus - Building 1 - Room 103
2351 Providence Blvd.
Deltona, FL 32725

Event Activities

- A brief presentation about transportation planning and decision making with handouts providing important local area information.
- Attendees participate in a planning exercise that identifies future transportation projects and expenditures based on estimated projected revenues and population.

Transportation Planning Considerations

- There is a relationship between the transportation system and the design and development of the surrounding community.
- Transportation decisions impact the economy, environment, and overall quality of life.

RSVP to Pamela Blankenship @ 386-226-0422 ext. 20416 or pblankenship@r2ctpo.org.